HELPING VICTIMS OF HUMAN TRAFFICKING: SPOTLIGHT ON COMMUNITY HEALTH WORKERS

WEDNESDAY, MAY 1, 12 - 1 P.M. MICROSOFT TEAMS

MELISSA DYER, PH.D., MBA, MSN, RN
Professor, College Of Nursing, Kent State University

TRAINING OBJECTIVES:
1) Identify types of trafficking
2) Identify vulnerable populations most likely to be trafficked
3) Identify red flags of human trafficking
4) Identify common health problems victims of human trafficking frequently experience
5) Identify immediate needs victims of human trafficking may have
6) Identify ways the Community Health Worker may intervene.

1 FREE CE HOUR CREDIT
Kent State University is approved as a provider of nursing continuing professional development by the Ohio Board of Nursing.

REGISTER TODAY

www.kent.edu/publichealth - 330.672.6500 - publichealth@kent.edu